Anti-Frost Machine Will Save Orchards

Michigan Machine Will Raise Temperature

By W. J. DRYDEN

A new machine designed to protect farm crops, particularly semi-tropical orchard crops, has been perfected at Michigan State college. The machine heats the soil and soil by means of an oil burning heater costing about $125, which sends out infrared heat waves. Cost of operation is about 75 cents an hour.

Severe frost damage has occurred in many fruit growing areas and young trees have been severely affected. The new machine, shown in illustration, should prevent much of the loss.

The cause of frost damage is well known. Heat which is stored up in the soil and plants during the day is rapidly radiated into the atmosphere on still, cloudless nights. Lower layers of the atmosphere become chilled and on sloping ground, the chilled air, increasing in density, moves to the lowest situation. For this reason the new invention will prove of real value to orchard operators in many sections of the country.

Rid Farm of Wild Garlic With 2, 4-D

It will take only about 100 gallons of 2, 4-D spray mixture to rid the average acre of wild garlic. Winter has proven an ideal time. It will aid in eradication if the application can be made when the land is free of snow.

By applying the mixture in the winter, all the germinated wild garlic plants will be killed and sufficient 2, 4-D will remain in the soil for two months to kill late germinating plants. Some spot spraying may be necessary the second year.

Many cities and road districts plan to use 2, 4-D to kill weeds along roads, parks and public land. Tests conducted last year have proven the value of this spray.
